Protect your implant and abutment interface with a bacteria and fungi resistant gel.

ImplaFlow™ is a super hydrophobic prophylactic proprietary gel coating formulation. It is a safe and effective homeopathic treatment that provides immediate and lasting resistance to bacteria and fungi in those critical and relevant areas of the abutment and implant interface. Use as a prophylactic treatment on the threads of abutment screws before seating into the dental implant body.

Gel formula in syringe to add one drop to implant abutment screw threads

Implaseal™ provides immediate resistance to bacteria and fungi in critically and relevant areas of the abutment and bridge interface. Eliminate the toxins and foul odors that harbor around abutment chambers and screw channels. Helps to prevent bone loss around implants.

5 mm gel foam beads to be used in screw channels and to close your abutments.

Dental Labs now can protect and reduce remakes by helping to decrease bacteria load around cases.

DentaKote Lab™ is a super hydrophobic prophylactic proprietary gel coating formulation. This compound formula is for use on dental prosthetics to minimize the adhesions of dental plaque and calculus and its harmful byproducts. The simple gel coating helps to decrease the adhesion of bacterial deposits, bio-toxins, and the consequences of gingivitis. It is a safe and effective homeopathic treatment.

This self-bonding silicone formulation was developed by a dentist to be bio-compatible, safe, and pH stable. It is proven effective with proper use, and the clinical guidelines are followed. Supplied in a single disposable patient applicator, it bonds immediately to virtually any surface.
